Choosing The Right Photographer

There are so many photographers in the market place - not all of them are professionals. You've heard all the bad stories in the news about people being cheated, most of your friends won't recommend the photographer they had at their wedding, and you've probably been at a wedding yourself, when the photographer there was rude or pushy and you said to yourself, "I'll never use that guy."

So how do you find the perfect photographer for your wedding???? Credentials, Credentials, Credentials... That's right, when you go into the photography studio look for diplomas, just like you would expect to see in the doctors office. Did you know that only 4% of wedding and portrait photographers in this country have any formal education in wedding photography? This is one major reason people are unhappy with their photographer after the wedding. Look in the phone book for a plumber or electrician and you'll see a licence number in their ad. The state requires a certain level of education and proficiency for certain trades, but when it comes to photographers, you're on your own.

Ask to see lots of thank you letters from past clients - not just a few - hundreds. Also be aware of the studios that do more than one wedding a day. This is where you will be shown "highlight" work from photographers that might not even work at that studio any more, or you assume the person you're sitting with is the photographer that will show up on your wedding day. Then, on your wedding day some stranger show up, says "I'm Joe, your photographer". Joe is a wanna be photographer. You'll be very upset to have someone at your wedding you never even met before.

Some photographers are much better sales people than photographers, so if you feel a little pressured to sign a contract, just ask for a couple of days to think about it before you put your name on the bottom line. The personality of the photographer should feel very comfortable to you. Remember you'll be spending your whole wedding day with whom ever you choose.

Is the style of the work something you'd like to see and share with everyone for the rest of your life? Keep in mind, you're asked to put money down on something you won't see until after your wedding. To calculate your true investment in photographs take your price quote and divide by fifty, for your 50th anniversary, then divide that number by 365 days to get your actual cost per day of enjoying the treasured memories from your special day. For example  $$3200 \div 50 = $64 \div 365 = $.175$ . That's right, less than 18¢ a day to invest in your wedding memories.

Of course, great photographs will become priceless over time and be passed down to the next generation to enjoy. Ever see any one selling their photographs at a garage sale? So ask lots of questions, get recommendations from your friends, and trust your wedding memories to a photographer that is formally trained in the art of wedding photography.

Sincerely yours, Dennis and Staff

Photography Styles

Well, here it is, your wedding day, all the dreams and hard work that have gone into making this day perfect, then the photographer makes your day his or her “photo shoot”, having the guests stand outside the ceremony for an hour while doing family photos, dragging people out of the cocktail hour and reception for family and bridal party photos. Everyone always looks “so happy” when they have to put down their food and drink and miss the party to take photographs...

Sound familiar??? So how can this nightmare not happen at your wedding?

As you can see from our samples we are very unobtrusive photographers. We start three hours before the ceremony to capture the bride getting ready, and then with her family and bridesmaids for two hours. Then we meet the groom (and guys) one hour before the ceremony to capture him while he’s still a little nervous looking. Then we capture the ceremony in a very unobtrusive manner so as not to interfere with the guests enjoyment. Next is the receiving line and then some exiting the church or gazebo photos. At this time, we only need 15-20 minutes to photograph the immediate family, after all the guests have left.

We don’t like to keep your guests waiting around for any formal photographs, that’s not what they came to your wedding for. After that, the family need not be bothered for the rest of the day. We then go to whatever location you choose for the bridal party photos, and then get you to your cocktail hour. Then you don’t need to be bothered for any photos unless you want a special image created in a lobby, room, garden or staircase. We might do that just after you eat dinner (it’s rude to bother your guests while they’re eating), they won’t even miss you at that time, and the staircase or garden will be empty, because every one else is eating. Other than the cake cutting, all of the reception photos, introductions, first dance, parent dances, toast, and fun dancing are done in a candid manor.

So you can have great images from your wedding... without missing any of the fun and excitement, and your guests will thank you, too!

We have a limited number of dates available, so call now to check availability and make an appointment meet with us and see all of our work.

Sincerely yours,
Dennis & Staff

Thank You Cards

How can we even thank you enough for all of the magnificent memories you have given us!? We knew from a friends wedding that you were wonderful, but our friends and family agree that you've outdone yourself! You know how hard it was to pick an album!! All good problems though. We will & have recommended you to anyone! Your work speaks for itself and you the only wedding photographer that gets so many shots without the bride & groom missing a minute of their party!!! You were such an asset for the day & we can't thank you enough for capturing all of our memories! You guys are the best! Love Jen & Paul

Thank you so much for capturing our very first memories together as husband & wife. We cannot believe how beautiful the photos and album came out. We will have these memories for many years to come thanks to you. We are very glad we chose you as our photographer. We love your creative ideas and personable, easygoing attitude. We felt like we were able to connect with you and it shows in your work!

Sincerely Manny & Joanne

We can not thank you enough! All we could say is WOW! Your photos are unbelievable! Your sense of creativity, eye for design, and passion for what you do really shows throughout every photo. You really captured the love we felt that day. If you ever need a referral, please do not hesitate to ask. We're sure we will be using you for all our future special occasions throughout our lives. Thank you again for capturing our memories forever!

With love & gratitude

We would highly recommend D. Becker Photo to other couples looking for someone to photograph their wedding. It was a pleasure working with Dennis Becker. He was completely professional, very willing to work with us, and was non-intrusive during the event. The pictures are spectacular; the quality and variety of the pictures are beyond what we could have ever imagined. Dennis Becker is a very nice person and a wonderful photographer. ~Dan & Laine Chidester

If you want a truly artistic approach to your wedding photos, DBECKER photo is the way to go. They provide both traditional portraits as well as a photojournalistic approach to capturing your day so you're sure to get the look YOU want. Additionally, they don't force you into choosing "PACKAGES, even though they have so much to choose from. I chose what I wanted way after the wedding day had passed and I could review all my photos. They were a real pleasure to work with and I will always recommend them to my friends. (R.ADAMS)

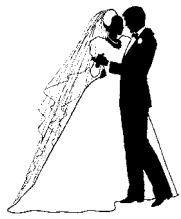

I just wanted to write a quick note to say how much we love the album! The pictures are beautiful and the album looks awesome! We couldn't be happier with how it turned out. Everyone that sees it loves it too and asks who our photographer was! We've looked through it a hundred times already! Thank you so much!

Hope all is well & thank you again!

Jaehnel & Jason

We wanted to thank you for doing an excellent job on our wedding pictures. They came out better than I imagined. You are a pleasure to work with and I would recommend you highly.

Sincerely, Lori & Jason
